

KNIGHT FAMILY CALENDAR 2015

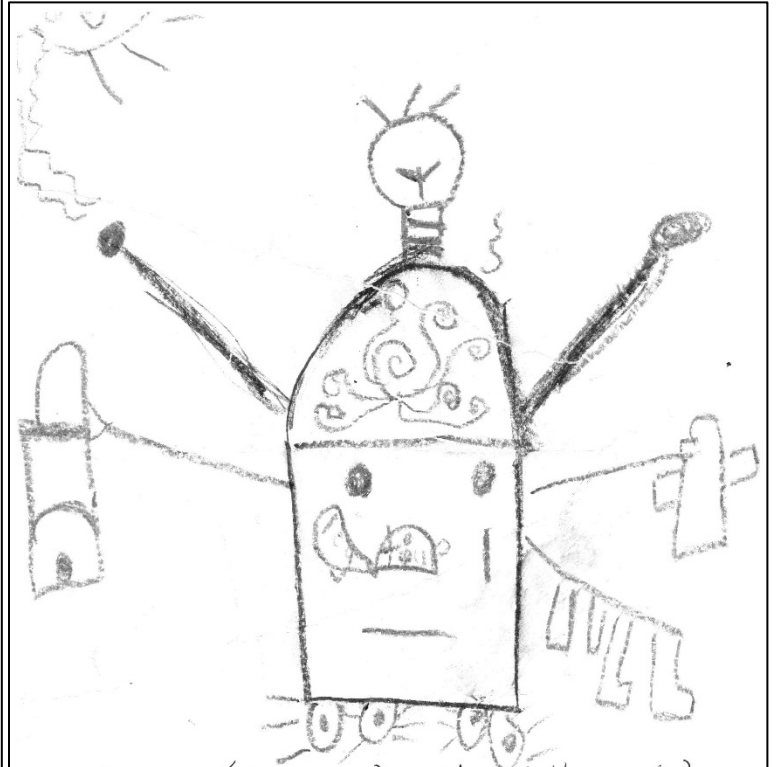

PATENTS PENDING

The 2014 Knight Family Calendar is a collection of our own Doodads, Gizmos and Gadgets, all patents pending. When they are brought to reality, as surely they will, our family's niche in the twenty-first century will be cast. Energy will be harvested, cats will be transported, toast will come out buttered and will always land right side up, and jetpacks will be practical.

I think it's really funny that you came up with this idea -- because I had Noah & Ben draw out their own "instructions" on how to make a leprechaun trap - this past March! We actually made them out of cardboard & put them out on St. Patrick's Day! Thanks for doing this each year!

Peter & Accomplices Since Disclaimed

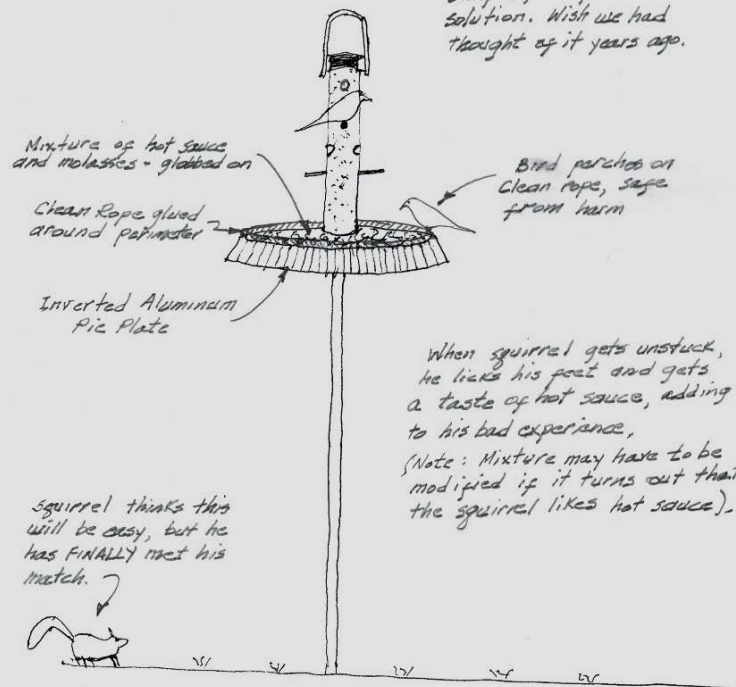

STARTREK TELEPORTER: For those parents with empty nest syndrome (Christi and Gunther) whose kids go off to college (Jake, Ian, and Dylan) because Cameron is not enough for she is always burrowed in her room or busy being a teenager and we can't always find her!)

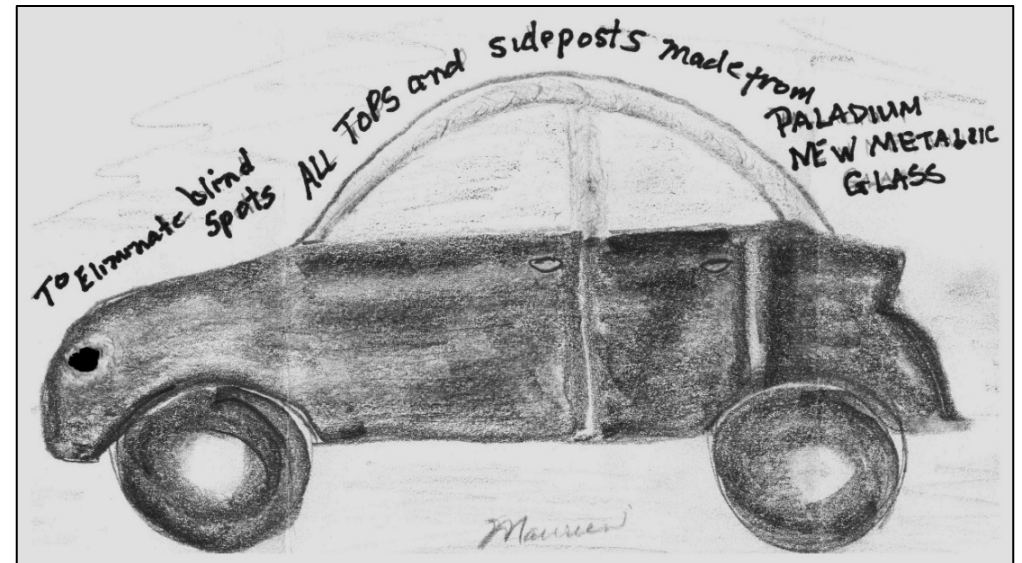

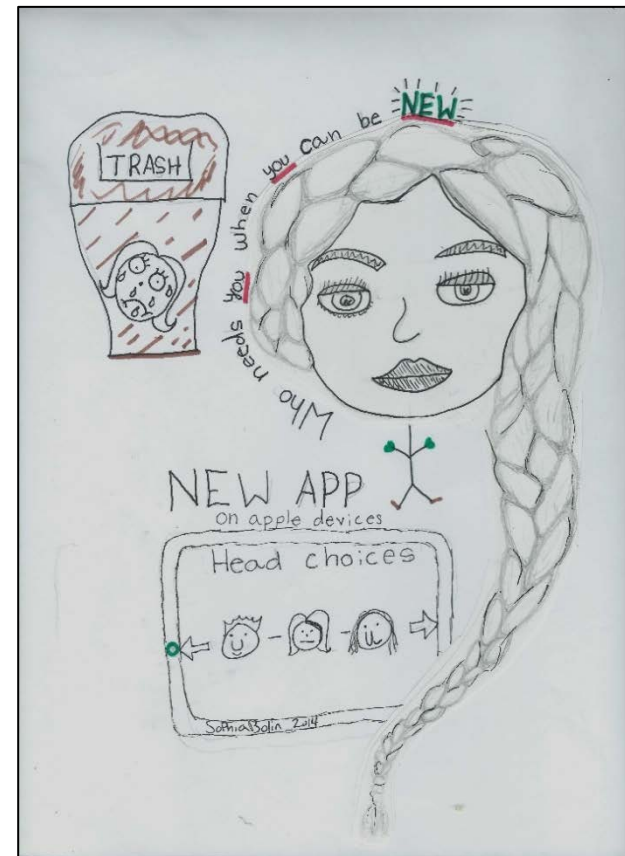

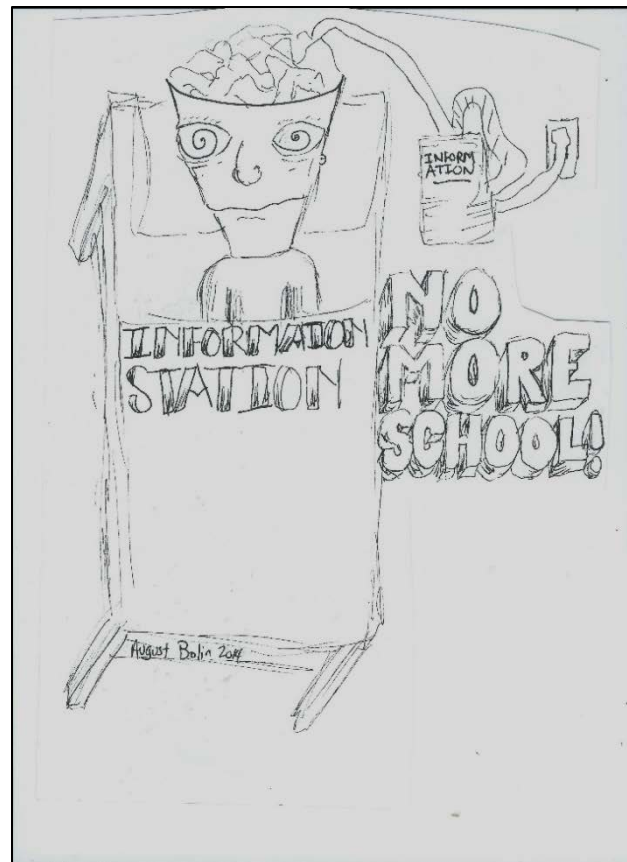

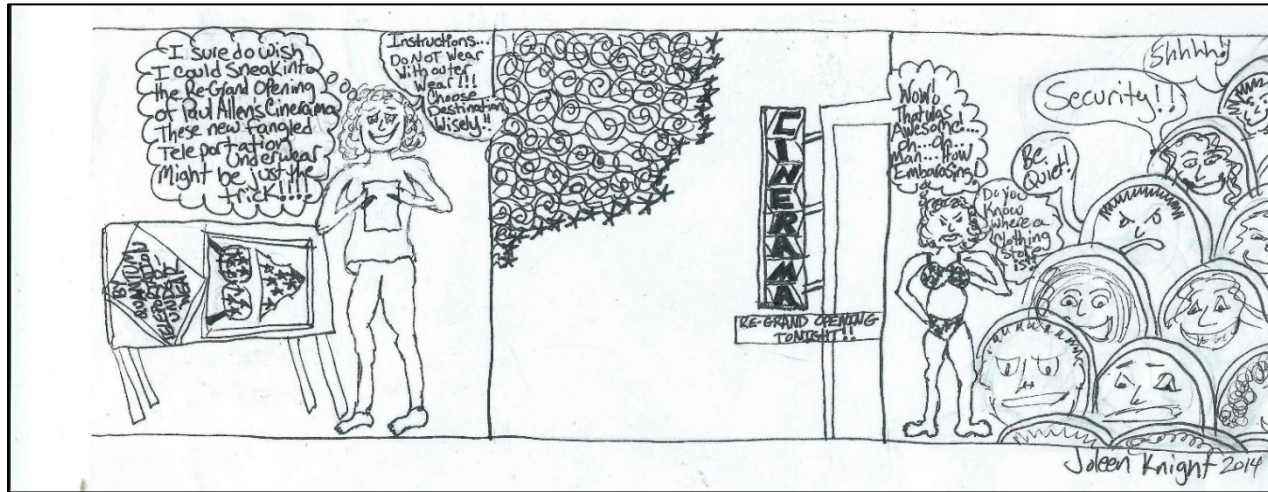

SQUIRREL-PROOF BIRD FEEDER

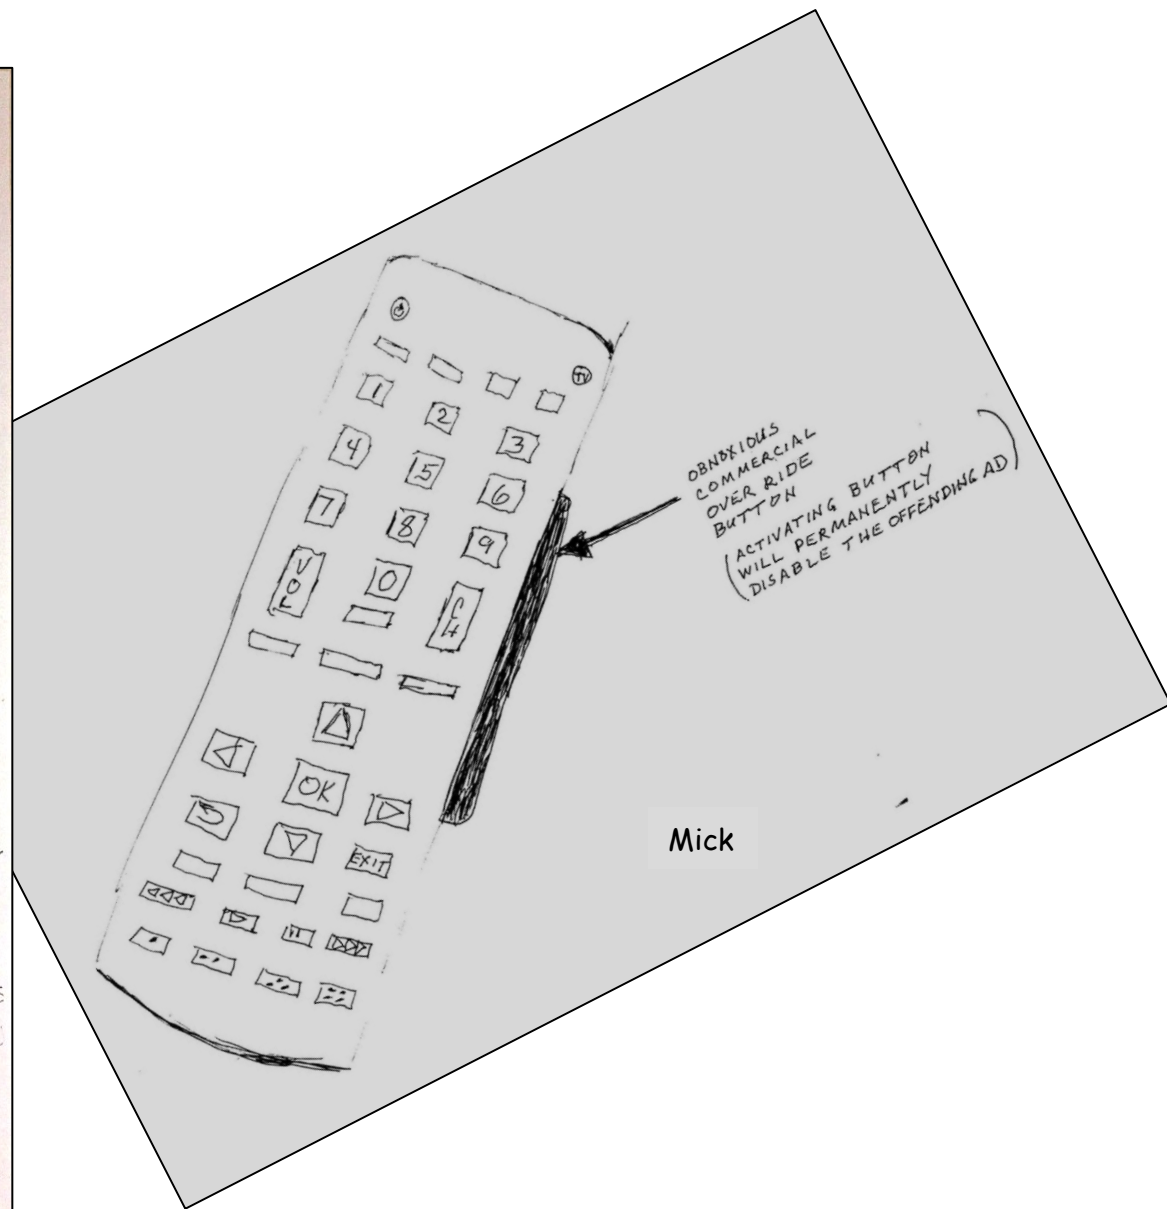

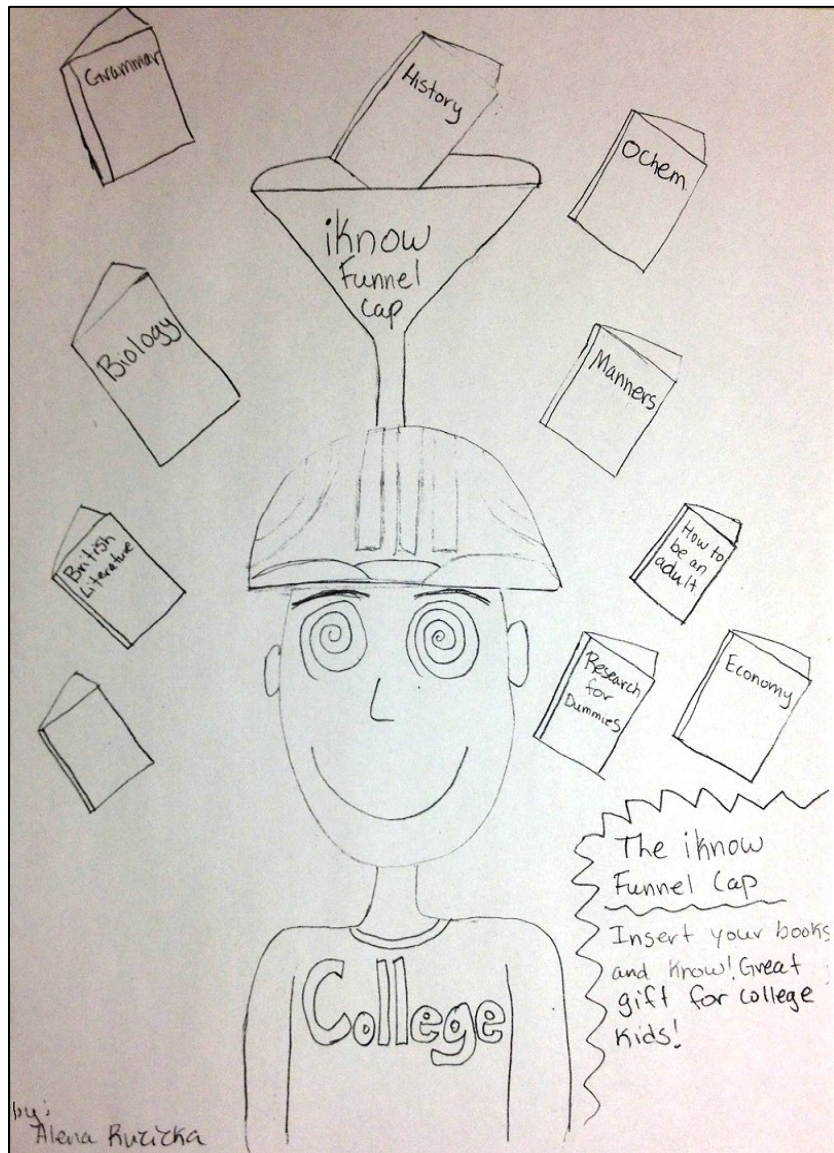

After trying countless numbers of so-called "squirrel proof" commercial feeders, we have found a simple, inexpensive solution. Wish we had thought of it years ago.
